Southerners Spur Rights Compromise

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The epic Senate civil rights battle is under way with Southerners vowing "no compromise" and launching a slowdown that is a preview of the full-blown filibuster still to come.

As debate enters its second day today Senate leaders said they would not try to speed matters up with extra-long sessions this week.

Southern senators responded by indicating their initial speeches would not run too long. Both sides made plain in the first skirmish Monday they were ready to fight to a showdown no matter how long it takes—and it may take months.

Under debate today is the first stage of the Senate legislative process—the motion of Democratic leader Mike Mansfield to proceed to consideration of the 10-point civil rights bill passed by the House.

Several Dixie senators were prepared to speak against this but leaders said they had reason to believe the Southerners would allow the motion to pass by the middle of next week.

Once the bill is taken up, it is subject to amendment and the real battle over its many provisions will be on.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey said one reason for holding down the length of Senate sessions this week was to give committees time for important meetings in the mornings.

Humphrey, the floor manager for the civil rights bill, told newsmen he had not yet conferred with Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen who is drafting substitutes for some sections of the bill.

Humphrey, referring to backers of the House bill and Dirksen, declared "I believe we are not too far apart" and indicated he felt some compromises could be reached.

Dirksen's support is considered essential in any successful move to vote cloture and shut off a Southern filibuster.

His substitutes would cover the public accommodations, fair employment practices and possibly the federal grant shutoff provisions of the House version.

Humphrey said that many persons did not seem to realize how carefully circumscribed these sections were as written in the House.

"Actually," he said, "my main problem may be to try to keep senators from offering too many amendments to strengthen it."

Mansfield originally sought Monday to make his motion to take up the bill during the "morning hour"—a two-hour period of routine Senate business.

If he had succeeded, his motion would not have been debatable and the first round of Southern speeches would have been knocked out.

See Need for Consolidations

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Education Commissioner Arch Ford said Monday he advocates an incentive to get school districts to consolidate their high school programs.

Ford said that public school education could be improved almost overnight by closing about 100 weak high schools.

It is the existence of these high schools and not the fact that there are 415 school districts that tends to dilute the educational program, Ford said.

Ford has proposed that the state pay a tuition grant and extra transportation costs as the incentive.

Development in Today's Politics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are today's political developments in brief:

New Hampshire: Despite wind, rain and snow, between 90,000 and 100,000 New Hampshire Republicans were expected to vote today in the nation's first presidential preference primary.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater were the leading active contestants, but large write-in votes were anticipated for Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon — both noncandidates for the GOP nomination. Fourteen delegates to the Republican nominating convention in July were also being chosen.

On the Democratic side, write-in votes were expected for President Johnson and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for vice president. Some 35,000 Democrats were expected to vote.

Oregon: Michigan Gov. George Romney withdrew from Oregon's May 15 presidential primary, filing an affidavit that he was not and did not intend to become a candidate for president. This left the field to three announced GOP candidates — Rockefeller, Goldwater and Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith — and three noncandidates — Nixon, Lodge and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

Maryland: Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace filed for Maryland's May 19 Democratic presidential primary. Administration forces of Gov. J. Millard Tawes were expected to put up a "favorite son" candidate to oppose Wallace, possibly Democratic Sen. Daniel B. Brewster. The filing deadline is March 16.

Tennessee: Democrat Willard Yarborough attempts today to become the first Democratic representative in 109 years from Tennessee's Second District. He faces Republican Mrs. Irene Bailey Baker, widow of Rep. Howard H. Baker, in a special election in the East Tennessee district.

Mansfield originally sought Monday to make his motion to take up the bill during the "morning hour"—a two-hour period of routine Senate business.

Critical Stage in Ruby Trial

By RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's murder trial moved deeper into its critical stages today with a legal duel centering around the key question: Did Ruby know right from wrong when he killed Lee Harvey Oswald.

Oswald's mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, 56, sought for the first time to attend the trial today and was promptly blocked. The state, saying it feared an outburst in court from her, subpoenaed her as a witness. This prevents her sitting in the courtroom as a spectator.

The jury of eight men and four women is beginning to hear psychological and psychiatric testimony in Ruby's defense.

The first witness today was Dr. Marti Towler, 53, director of the Titus Harris Clinic at the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston. He made brain wave tests on Ruby.

Ruby's chief counsel, Melvin Belli, said the case would go to the jury by Saturday. Dist. Atty. Henry Wade has indicated he will need only one day for rebuttal testimony.

Snow Slows Balloting in N. Hampshire

By WALTER R. MEARS

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A swirling snowstorm and early write-in votes for Henry Cabot Lodge and Richard M. Nixon compounded the Republican riddle today as New Hampshire voters cast their ballots in the nation's lead-off presidential primary.

With seven votes, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater held a one-vote edge, but Lodge was right behind him as a trickle of votes from mountain hamlets began the tide that will shape up the battle for the GOP nomination to oppose President Johnson next November.

Goldwater's name was on the ballot; Lodge's and Nixon's were not.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who like Goldwater has been stumping New Hampshire all winter, had three votes, and Nixon five.

Those early votes were from the north country communities of Dixville Notch, Hart's Location and Ellsworth.

Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who is on the ballot as a presidential candidate, had more votes than anyone else. But all eight Smith votes were write-ins for vice president.

A late-winter snowstorm piled up five inches in Concord and the weatherman said the snow would blanket the entire state. It was almost certain to hold down the voter turnout—which had been expected to total 90,000 to 100,000.

The Weather Bureau in Cincinnati forecast that heavy rains would taper off today and the river would reach 66 feet by Thursday then probably go higher.

The turbulent weather in the South set off more torrential rains in the Ohio River valley. An intense storm centered over Kentucky and rain splashed the region for the fifth day this month. Weather Bureau officials said the rain may end in many areas today.

Snow, sleet and rain hit areas from Oklahoma and Texas to New England. Nearly a foot of snow fell at Tahlequah in eastern Oklahoma during a surprise storm Monday. Amounts measured eight inches at nearby Muskogee, with snow in most parts of the state except in eastern sections.

Another belt of snow, sleet and rain pelted areas from Kansas to New England.

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)—The leader of the Black Muslims predicts the Negro will not turn to violence in the quest for equal justice.

Elijah Muhammad made the observation in his Phoenix home today after learning that his former top aide, Malcolm X, was breaking away from the organization. Malcolm X said his action was an effort to convert the 22 million non-Muslim Negroes "from nonviolence to active self-defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country."

The 65-year-old Muhammad spoke quietly of the defection, his eyes sometimes watering.

"My people are more adapted to peace," he said. "They believe in peaceful solutions."

He said Malcolm X is too smart to start any violence, adding that "he has no guns, no ammunition."

Malcolm X had been a Muslim for nine years.

"We are surprised," said Muhammad. "I never dreamed this man would deviate from the nation of Islam. Every one of the Muslims admired him. But what he has said makes it definite. He has deviated."

Muhammad said he felt the announcement by Malcolm X would have little or no effect on the civil rights bill pending in Congress or on the attitudes of the nation's Negroes.

The chief of an estimated 275,000 Negroes said Muslims believe in separation of race only "if America will not give us equal justice."

He added, however: "I see no signs of equal justice."

If this is not attained, he said the Muslims want "the slave master and his slave to be separated."

Weather Lashes the Entire Nation With Heavy Rain, Snow

Misery Follows Floods and Tornadoes

Snow, rain, floods and tornadoes wove a path of misery and destruction through sections of the United States today.

The snow belt stretched from New England down into Kansas and Oklahoma, and caused at least three deaths in St. Louis.

In other sections, mostly in the Midwest, Southwest, East and Southeast, rain and sleet caused hundreds of traffic accidents, stalled thousands of motorists and forced many rivers and streams beyond their banks.

Thousands of families were driven from homes by flood waters.

Many highways in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Missouri were closed.

An airplane carrying three men and a cargo of freight crashed today into a Boston waterfront lumber yard during a sleet and near-gale storm. All were killed.

Scores of schools and places of business were shut down by swollen river and stream.

The rainfall since Monday. Rain averaged between 5 and 8 inches in much of the flood area.

In much of the flood area. At Louisville nearly seven inches of rain up to 7 a.m. today brought the month's total to 12.88 inches, highest monthly figure in history.

The Red Cross and National Guardsmen aided evacuation of families from flooded areas in the Ohio River Valley, hardest hit by the new rains.

The Ohio River continued surging toward its fourth highest level in history and it appeared that the situation would get worse before it gets better, particularly along the river below Cincinnati.

The Weather Bureau in Cincinnati forecast that heavy rains would taper off today and the river would reach 66 feet by Thursday then probably go higher.

Washington (AP) — The Labor Department for the first time has published figures indicating that total unemployment may be far higher than the 5 million persons shown in latest official statistics.

The new figures, presented to Congress along with President Johnson's report on manpower, include persons "not in the labor force" in addition to the jobless.

"It is the first such set of figures we have been able to get up," said Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Union officials for some time have contended that federal figures do not measure the true extent of unemployment because they list only those actively seeking work.

Union spokesmen have estimated that the real unemployment total may be close to double the official federal figure, when taking into account part-time work by those who want full-time jobs, and discouraged persons who have given up the search for work and do not even show up in the statistics.

While the new Labor Department figures are incomplete, they give an inkling of the situation. They also show that persons with the least education are most heavily represented in the unemployed or "not in the labor force" categories.

The figures show that among white men aged 45 to 54 with four years or less of education, 221 out of every 1,000 are not working. Of these, 84 are listed as unemployed and 137 as not in the labor force.

Among those with college degrees, the corresponding figure shrinks to 39 who are not working, including 10 unemployed and 29 not in the labor force.

Wirtz said no breakdown is available on reasons for those skidding temperatures. Then came the snow.

At one point on Monday night highways in Washington, Benton and Carroll counties were closed because of snow, State Police said.

Hundreds of motorists were reported stranded along U.S. 71 from Fayetteville to the Missouri line—a distance of about 40 miles.

Heavy rains that preceded the snow Monday swelled the Arkansas and White rivers and both were expected to crest today.

The rain was an inconvenience to motorists, but at Harrison County Agent John Shelton termed it a "million dollar rain for farmers." That area, along with most of the state, suffered a severe drought last year.

Low temperatures today dropped to 11 degrees at Fayetteville and were mostly in the 20s in the north section of the state. The southern half had low readings from the mid to upper 30s.

The cold air was expected to remain over the state until Wednesday, when skies will become partly cloudy and warmer weather moves in.

Maximums Monday ranged from 37 at Harrison to 72 at Little Rock.

The Highway Department listed 12 highways closed today. They included:

- 18 between Grubbs and Newport in Jackson County.
- 58 south and east of Williford in Sharp County.
- 46 between Sheridan and Leola in Grant County.
- 229 between Benton and Poyen in Saline County.
- 25 between Black Rock and Powhatan in Lawrence County.
- 25 at the Strawberry River between Lynn and Strawberry in Lawrence County.
- 90 at the Eleven Point River west of Pochahontas in Randolph County.
- 166 from Engelberg to Highway 67 in Randolph County.
- 211 north of Success in Clay County.
- 115 from Smithville to Jessup in Lawrence County.
- 226 from Gibson Switch to Cash in Craighead County, where a bridge was out and the road was expected to be closed for two or three days.
- 69 between Trumann and Highway 1 in Craighead County.

There was some water over Highways 25 and 67 at Village Creek north of Walnut Ridge but traffic was moving. There was water over highways 25 and 135 east of Paragould but traffic was moving.

Highway 95 in Conway County, 65 in Van Buren County and 16 in White County were reopened today.

Rockefeller Wins Victory in GOP Ranks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller won a minor victory over state Republican Chairman William Spicer Saturday at a meeting of the state GOP executive committee in Little Rock.

The committee, in executive session, approved the hiring by Rockefeller of four field workers for the state GOP. The hiring had been opposed by Spicer.

Pro-Rockefeller forces rallied signatures of 11 of the 20 committee members to call the session.

Spicer had said the meeting was called illegally and that he would not attend. But Saturday, he showed up shortly before the meeting with his backers.

All 20 members of the committee were present or represented by proxy.

The approval of the resolution endorsing the hiring of the field workers was announced by Mrs. Martha Townsend, committee secretary. She would not say by what vote the resolution was passed.

Neither Rockefeller nor Spicer would comment on what took place during the 90-minute meeting.

Spicer insisted, "No comment! No comment!" Rockefeller would only say that "we're trying to bury the hatchet."

Newsmen were excluded from the meeting shortly after it began on a motion by D. Fred Taylor Jr. of Osceola. The motion was seconded by James S. Grimes of Jonesboro. Both are in the Rockefeller faction.

The motion came after Spicer said he was willing for newsmen to remain. Most of Spicer's people voted against the motion while most of the Rockefeller faction supported it.

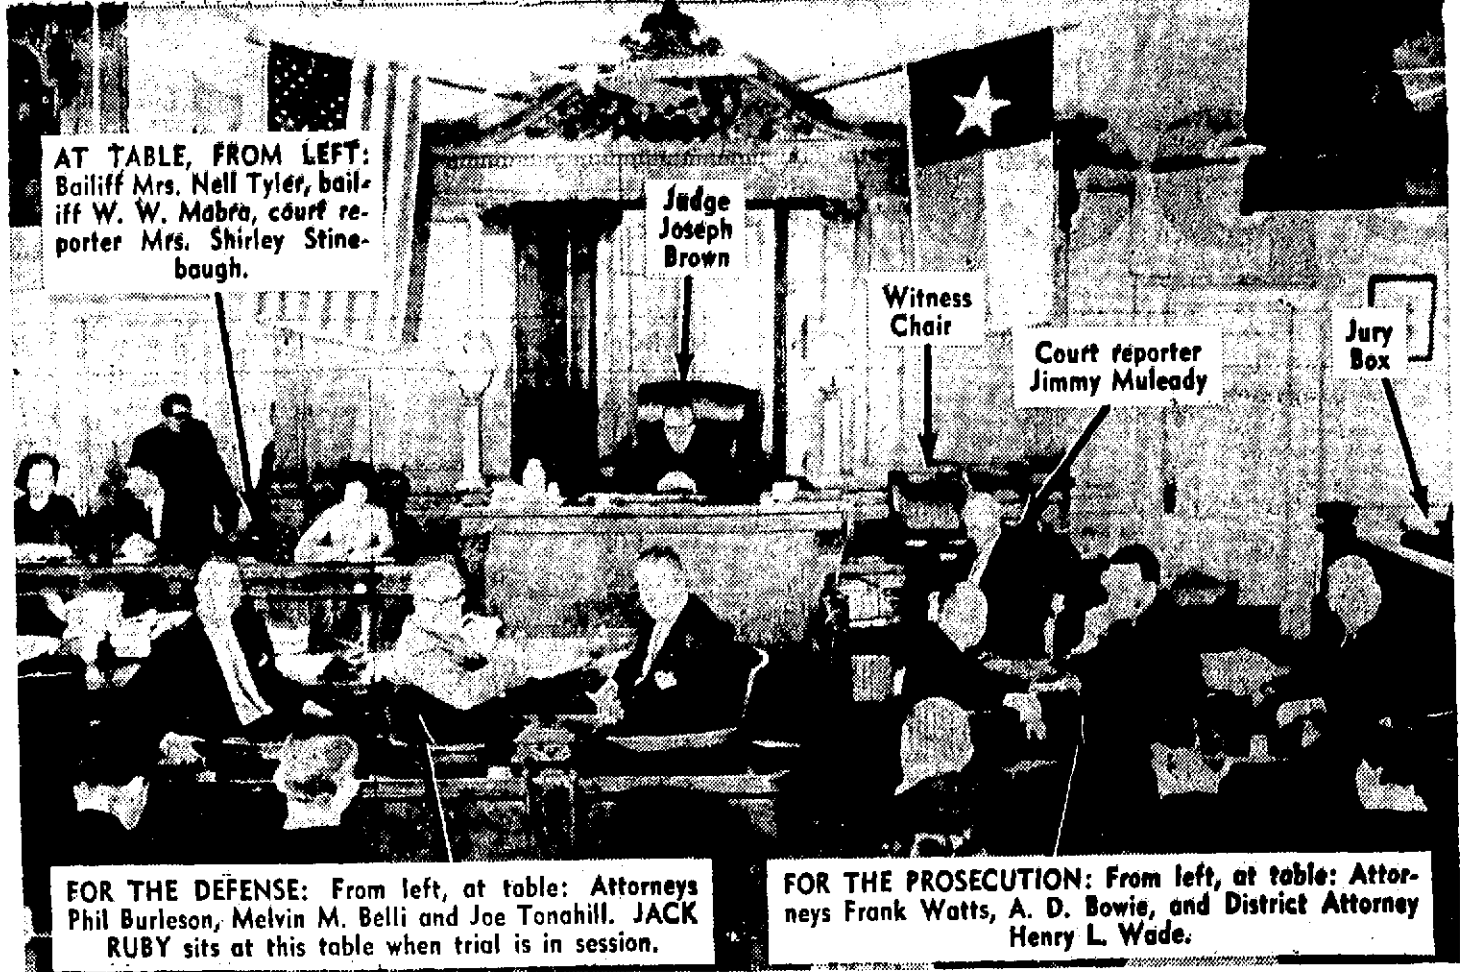

Rockefeller voted against it.

The dispute between Rockefeller and Spicer began last Aug. 31 when the state GOP executive committee censured Rockefeller for allegedly usurping some of Spicer's duties as state chairman.

A resolution was passed restricting Rockefeller to his duties as Republican national committeeman from Arkansas.

Spicer, a supporter of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R - Ariz., as the GOP presidential nominee, said the dispute was the result of Rockefeller attempting to get Arkansas votes for his brother, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who has announced his candidacy for TOP presidential nominee.

Rockefeller has denied this.

Buys Up Contract of School Head

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The Conway School Board paid $10,000 Monday for the remaining 16 months of Superintendent Hays Gibson's contract.

The action, was approved in executive session.

Arline Metheny, assistant principal at Conway High School, was named acting superintendent.

Gibson and some of the board members have been at odds for more than a year. The board recently said it was terminating Gibson's contract, and Gibson repeatedly denied that he was quitting or that he had told anybody he would.

The National Education Association is investigating the situation, and the association's special committee of the Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission will meet with the Conway board next Monday night.

At Monday's meeting the school audit division of the state Comptroller's office said a detailed audit revealed the Conway district's finances were satisfactory and correct. The audit had been requested by the board.

THE STORY: Charlie Medders escapes from the office of O'Toole, the assayer, two jumps ahead of T. K. Jones and the sheriff.

VIII

The Irishman, snorting, peered at the banker like he thought T. K. had gone off his rocker. "That greenish lookin' stuff?" He loosed a dubious cackle. "Look—I'm laughin'." "You ran a test on this stuff?" "A test, the man says!" O'Toole rolled his eyes. "T. K., silver's black—it ain't green!" "Sure, sure. You run some of this through the works right away. I'll foot the bill," the banker smiled, standing back. O'Toole chewed his cheek. "I can't do that." "Then what would you say if I impound this ore and had the Court—"

O'Toole had too much tied up in this to throw in his hand if he could find a way around it. With a show of confidence he said, crisply blunt: "That court order you got hardly gives you a license to grab everything you happen to fancy."

A tide of red crept above the banker's tight fitting collar, his eyes bulged more noticeably. Then a scornful smile nastily twisted his mouth. "I imagine the Court will continue in good judgment."

"First of all," Jones smiled, "this unprincipled swindler—and I'm speaking of Medders—was observed to enter town with two heavily laden burros—known, I believe, as Begat and Begatta. Those animals, stripped of their packs, are presently standing outside this shop. You have a table covered with a lot of highgrade specimens and three unopened packs."

He paused to stab a triumphant glance across the shine of dropped coins. "And I would remind you," he said, his satisfaction crammed with malice, "that all assayers, including yourself, were apprised of the Court's order and warned against buying any ore from

"I think," said the sheriff as O'Toole's jaw tightened, "you won't do yourself any good bein' stubborn."

O'Toole pulled up his head and on a bitter outburst of breath declared the ore didn't belong to Medders.

"I expect," McFarren drawled, "you know how it happens to be settin' on that bench."

When the assayer failed to respond the banker said to McFarren: "Bring in your prisoner, Sheriff."

McFarren said gruffly, "I do not have a prisoner. Was't no body out there?"

O'Toole, finding hope, showed a dry lift of lips.

"Well, no matter," Jones said, darkly eyeing his sheriff, "I believe we can show to the court's satisfaction it was Medders, all right, that fetched the stuff in here." He glanced a glance at the girl. "Show O'Toole that specimen you fetched from Medders' mine, my dear."

The girl finally dug the little chunk from her bodice and dropped it into the banker's outstretched palm. Jones, beckoning the assayer, went back to the bench and placed the sample beside one of the bigger hunks. "What do you think the Court will say to that?"

There was no room for argument. Both pieces had obviously come from the same source. The greenish tinge was evident throughout.

"We've got more than that," Jones peered at him smugly. "This piece is Medders' partner with a full half interest in every ounce he sells—what's more, she's got it sewed up in writing, and chain marks on her legs to prove Medders has been keeping her penned up out there like a pony! McFarren," he said, "you've got the court's warrant. I want this ore—every piece of it, impounded." O'Toole, gnashing his teeth, waved his arms like crazy.

"Before I get through I'll have you both behind bars," the banker said with the tone and look one might expect of a man so vindictively self-righteous. He was like a cat having fun with a mouse. "Most silver," he said, "as you yourself pointed out, in its natural state generally tends to seem dark, sometimes even black as it comes from the ground—which is not to say it can never look green. One source," he declared with considerable satisfaction, "discovered in this vicinity during the Spanish occupation, had this strange peculiarity. It came from the Weeping Widow, one of the fabulous Lost Padre mines."

and Arkansas to Southern Illinois. Hundreds of motorists were stranded along a hilly 40-mile stretch of U.S. 71 from Fayetteville, Ark., northward to the Missouri border Monday night. The storm dropped 10 inches of snow in some parts of northwest Arkansas, with six inches reported in a six-hour period in St. Louis.

Heavy snow was forecast along a narrow band from east central Missouri through central Ohio with the possibility the wet belt might extend into mountain areas of Pennsylvania and New England.

Most damaging floods were in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana, but overflows of rivers and streams also hit areas in Missouri and southern Illinois. The Ohio River rose rapidly and appeared headed toward an expected 66-foot crest in Cincinnati, the highest since 1945, on Thursday.

In Kentucky, hard hit by the overflows, Louisville was drenched with nearly seven inches of rain Monday, a record downpour. Parts of Louisville and Evansville, Ind., were under three feet of water. More than 1,500 persons left their homes in Falmouth, Ky., as the Licking River reached a record 42 feet.

More than 300 persons were evacuated from Poplar Bluff, in southeastern Missouri, as the levee along the Black River threatened to collapse. Heavy rain which hit the area for two days changed to snow Monday night.

Doesn't Take Much to Be Smash Hit

By DAVE SMITH

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It really doesn't take much to be a smash hit in the entertainment world.

All you have to do is sing more or less on pitch, try not to fall on your physiognomy when you dance, take a few acting lessons and not have a face that would stop a sundial. And have the stamina of a Clydesdale and not need any sleep.

Talent or no, you've still got to lift that barge.

Take Gene Barry. Fact is, Barry does have talent—bargful of it, some say. He has won praise as a song-and-dance man, musical comedy star, on-and-off-Broadway actor, film star and television idol. His lady fans will tell you he is not exactly ugly, either.

But all that talent would be for naught if it weren't for the fact that Barry also has the ability to work like a one-armed paper-hanger and still arise next morning with a full head of steam.

Barry probably became best-known as television's Bat Masterson, back when Westerns dominated the video. To give his show a different touch, Barry—an impeccable off-screen dresser—decided to invest the grime-jawed old gunslinger with a touch of sartorial elegance. Bat became something of a dandy, and the fans loved it. The show was such a success that Barry nearly worked himself ragged.

Now Barry is the star of "Burke's Law"—a television detective series in which, as a member of a city police department, Burke nonetheless dresses like Cary Grant and does his sleuthing in his own Rolls-Royce. "Burke's Law" was conceived

Talks Convict Into Surrender

MUNITH, Mich. (AP) — "I never talked so much in my life," said Marian Poxson, 48-year-old housewife, after she persuaded an escaped convict to surrender.

"I talked to him like he was my son," she said. "He needed help."

Mrs. Poxson, a small, plumpish woman, talked convicted forger Lester B. Dionne, 35, into giving himself up after a hectic frightening period Monday.

Police described Mrs. Poxson as a heroine.

A threatened kidnapping, two home break-ins, and a high-speed auto ride with Mrs. Poxson at the wheel praying for police interception figured in the series of events.

Road blocks were up.

"An unusual woman," said Gus Harrison, state corrections commissioner, after Mrs. Poxson marched Dionne into his office, climaxing six tense hours.

Dionne was a fugitive from a southern Michigan state prison farm.

as a satire on the tremendously popular detective series trend, says Barry, and once again the fans are eating it up. The show has been on for a year, it'll be back next year, and the industry oracles figure it'll be good for a third season.

Barry, waging a constant war against bloodshot eyes, works from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. five days a week on the series, then goes home, eats dinner, reads the next day's lines and falls into bed sometime after midnight.

Days off? "I just catch up on the things I've let go through the week," says Barry.

Some of those things: his Barbety Production Co., which is already planning feature films and television shows — which Barry will appear in and direct — for the day when "Burke's Law" has run its course; a recording, entitled "Barry's Law—Love," in which he returns to his early role as a singer; fan mail; his wife, Betty, and two sons, and plans for an eight-week summer vacation, when the current "Burke's Law" series is all filmed.

HOW TO HANDLE A HUSBAND WHO'S HAD AN AFFAIR

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I've been married six years and my best friend has just told me that my husband is carrying on an affair with another woman. I've confirmed it. I really can't think straight. I'm too upset to know the right thing to do. It all happened so suddenly. All I'm thinking of is getting revenge on my husband, because I am very bitter over what he's been doing. —E. A.

Dear E. A.: A wife's first natural reaction when she learns her husband's been unfaithful is probably one of revenge. Her husband has hurt her, and he should pay the penalty for what he's done.

Sometimes, she collects her senses, and acts coolly and wisely. If so, her husband is penitent, senses the wrong in what he's done, and then never repeats it.

On the other hand, if she gives in to her righteous anger as soon as she's found out — and this is a woman's natural reaction — her actions may lead to the opposite or what she really wants.

Completely rejected, her husband may seek emotional refuge in the other woman, and in self-defense turn to her, instead of his wife. In some cases I know, the other woman has actually hoped for just this: That the wife's reactions would become so violent toward her husband; that he would turn to the other woman in sheer self-defense and, furthermore, marry her.

Once you know this about the typical clandestine affair, that if the other woman has a man physically on occasion, she rarely has him emotionally. She rarely realizes it, but her role is often one of relieving some feeling of inadequacy the man is feeling.

Betty and Bill, as we'll call them, had been married several years when one of her closest friends phoned and said, "Betty, I feel there's something you should know about Bill."

Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Anthony of El Dorado and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Foster of Hope.

When Betty heard this news, she realized this overt act was only the climax of a rift that had been gradually widening between them.

Now, it's interesting to see how Betty behaved toward Bill. She didn't read the riot act, or burst into tears when he came home that night. Instead, she faced him calmly. "Bill," she said, "I know about the affair you've been carrying on with this other woman. You simply have to choose between us. If you want a divorce, I won't stand in your way. But, be sure that she means enough to you to make up for what you will lose."

"Remember, I will have custody of the children, and you'll be able to see them only at the discretion of the court. You know, we've had to pinch pennies to get along. Can you manage to keep up two households on your salary? Do you think your friends and associates will approve of what you're doing?"

"I don't blame you entirely for what's happened, but if you think our marriage is worth saving, I'll listen to any suggestions you want to make to me."

Bill was silent for a few moments, and then he began, "I admit I was wrong, and I don't offer any excuse for what I did, but I couldn't seem to help myself."

"I don't want a divorce. I never intended to marry this young woman. I could never feel that special way about her that I did for you, and it would kill me to be parted from the children. If you're willing to take another chance, I'll do everything in my power to get her out of my system, and make this up to you."

From then on, Betty and Bill tackled their problem together, and this approach and handling of this near-disaster actually saved their marriage.

A NOTE TO DAYDREAMERS

A great many people have the secret conviction that if you wish long and hard enough you will get what you want. There is that childish belief that somebody—mother or father perhaps—will make the wish come true.

Can Expect $50 Christmas Gifts

DENVER (AP)—Truman and Elizabeth Jones of Denver and Mike and Kathy Livada of New Orleans, La., can expect $50 gifts next Christmas.

In the years thereafter they'll get only Christmas cards from the late Isa Simmons as specified in her will.

Turks to Oppose Appointment

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—The Turkish government has decided to oppose the appointment of Jose Rold Bennett of Guatemala as the U.N. mediator for Cyprus a high government source said Monday.

The rejection will be based on the grounds that Bennett, who is Secretary - General U Thant's deputy chief of cabinet, lacks the necessary international standing and experience for the post, the informant said.

Wishing long and hard may only work if, in addition, the person acts to obtain what he wants But in matters of pure chance, just wishing won't help you in the least.

Approximately 170,000 dice were thrown by 393 persons to determine whether dice are influenced by "wishing." Alas! The total score was not significantly different from chance expectation. Our wishes—whether they are noble, selfish, sensible, or silly—are most meaningful when they can affect our actions.

Would Probe Americans' Bad Showing

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey has suggested the appointment of a White House commission on sports to assay America's weak showing in the recent Winter Olympics.

Included was a massive program to build Olympic-type sports facilities in all parts of the country to train future competitors.

Hearing rumors that some lawmakers thought this inadequate, the peering reporter borrowed Floyd Patterson's false mustache and beard and set about eavesdropping in an exclusive Washington club where representatives speak only to senators and senators only speak.

Sure enough, the round-table conversation concerned the Olympics. Listen:

Rep. Tee: "V.M. in favor of Humphrey's program. Why there isn't a downhill or slalom course in Texas, big as it is. We should have at least five or six."

Rep. Eff: "An that about Florida? We have all those water skiers. With proper facilities, we could train them to win every Olympic ski event."

Sen. Exe: "You fellows are taking the narrow view. There should be at least a cabinet post and an interstate sports commission. Why let the White House run everything?"

Sen. Wye: "Right, Harry. This could be the biggest thing for politicians since the first rivers and harbors bill was passed. Remember, every part of the country needs more facilities."

Rep. Pa: "It would be a boon to the economy. Think of the coal industry. You can't build cinder tracks without burning coal for cinders."

Rep. Tee: And the fiber glass industry, too. We'd need millions of glass vaulting poles.

Rep. Gee: Why import vaulting Poles. Don't we have enough

Glenn Undergoing Concussion Tests

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. began a three to four day battery of examinations, including hearing and equilibrium tests, Monday for treatment of a brain concussion.

Glenn, who suffered the concussion in a bathroom accident Feb. 26 in Columbus, Ohio, was flown to Wilford Hall U.S. Air Force Hospital here Friday.

A hospital spokesman said Glenn continues "to suffer with the dizziness when standing and sitting that has been the primary complaint" since the accident. The fall injured his inner ear equilibrium.

A spokesman said "X rays taken over the weekend were normal and doctors were still optimistic of meeting Glenn's hoped for April 1 retirement."

Glenn is a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio. He plans to be campaigning soon after April 1.

Anti-Castro Junta Renews Its Vows

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban Revolutionary Junta, a large anti-Castro band, renewed a vow today that its men will be fighting Communist forces inside Cuba by May 20.

Rogelio Cisneros, Miami head of JURE, as the junta is called, also announced a Cuban exile meeting here on that date, Cuban independence day, to honor President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela, outspoken foe of Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba.

vaulting Americans?"

Sen. Zee: "We can't let the Russians get ahead of us. I hear they're applying their rocket techniques to the pole vault to sling their men higher."

Rep. Queue: The refrigeration industry has been weak with so many people not keeping up payments on deep freezers. They could convert to skating rinks—and all the bobsled and ski courses in the South would have to be refrigerated the year round.

Rep. Aye: "Deep fezzers. Don't mention them in Washington."

Sen. Exe: "I hear they already have offered Bud Wilkinson the post of minister of Olympics if he'll dump the election for senator."

Rep. Tee: "Impossible. He'd try to run the modern pentathlon from a split T formation. I nominate Darrell Royal."

Rep. Gee: "He already has everything — coach, athletic director, professor and half the oil wells."

Sen. Zee: "Well, how about Bobby? Or Teddy? Or Sargent? Or Stephen? Or Peter?"

Rep. Eff: "Or Frankie Boy?"

Sen. Wye: "The the too youngm One of them could be undersecretary of repechages."

Rep. Queue: "Repechages? What's that?"

Sen. Zee: "I don't know. It's a word you always use about rowing so they'll think you're an expert. Like the rumb line in yachts."

Rep. Tee: "How about Stan Musial?"

Sen. Wye: "The Man% Not in an election year. We need the women's votes."

Pair Invited to Debate Issues

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Pulaski County Young Democrats Club has invited state Reps. J. H. Cottrell of Pulaski County and Hardy Croxton of Benton County to debate proposed voter registration bills.

Jerry Russell, president of the club, wrote the legislators inviting them to appear before his group "at a site and time to suit you both."

The Legislative Council has approved a bill based on one written by Cottrell to be presented to a special legislative session. Croxton has criticized this bill and drawn criticism from Cottrell. Croxton also wrote a registration bill.

Cottrell declined over the weekend to debate Croxton at Croxton's invitation.

Clay's Brain Matched with Uncle Sam

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cassius Clay's brain gets a rematch with Uncle Sam on Friday—and Sonny Liston, along with all the other heavyweight boxing contenders, will have to await the outcome before matching brawn with the champion.

After reportedly flunking the mental test in a previous Selective Service examination, Clay gets another chance in Louisville.

"I really tried hard — real hard — on that mental test," Clay said. "It wasn't too hard, I guess, but I never was a good reader or a good speller, not brainy with the pencil and paper. I got out of (Louisville) Central High with a D-minus."

While Cassius prepared for the exam, Manager Bill Faversham sized up the contenders for Clay's crown.

"If Cassius is not accepted by the Army, Liston deserves the next bout because he's the one who lost his title to Cassius," Faversham said.

"If Liston's left arm is in such shape that he cannot fight, then I'd say that the men who deserve a chance are Doug Jones, Ernie Terrell and Eddie Machen, and I'd have to put all of them before Floyd Patterson."

During the weekend, Patterson offered to fight Clay for no purse, with a $750,000 guarantee to the champion. Clay's ire rose over Patterson's reference to taking the title away from the Black Muslims.

Clay said he didn't like the mention of his religion when discussing his professional life.

Two Year Old Left Totally Blind

Surgeons removed Vicki's right eye last summer when retinal blastoma, a form of cancer, was discovered. The disease forced removal of her left eye Monday.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wray, planned to stay with her until she is released from the hospital. They have eight other children.

Texas A&M Is Eliminated Very Quickly

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Connecticut scored the major upset in the first round of the NCAA basketball tournament, which found a little of the thunder stolen by a couple of regular-season developments.

Princeton, Villanova, Texas Western and Creighton joined Connecticut as the first round tournament victors while Oklahoma State and Purdue closed the regular season with major mile stones.

At Stillwater, Okla., Henry Iba's Cowboys belted Oklahoma 80-47, the 700th career victory for the 59-year-old coach. The only other active coaches with 700 or more are Adolph Rupp of Kentucky and Ed Diddle of Western Kentucky.

And in Ann Arbor, Mich., Purdue upset mighty Michigan, tournament bound and ranked second in the nation, 81-79. The loss dropped Michigan into a share of the Big Ten title with Ohio State, but the Wolverines still get the tourney berth because of a league rule on most recent appearances.

Connecticut's 53-48 upset of Temple highlighted NCAA tourney opening rounds in Philadelphia and Dallas. Princeton, being all-America Bill Bradley, bombed Virginia Military 86-60 and Villanova whipped Providence 77-66 in the other games in the Philadelphia tripleheader. The winners join Duke in regional play at Raleigh, N.C. Friday.

At Dallas, Texas Western whipped Texas A&M 68-62 behind the outstanding performance of Jim Barnes and Creighton took Oklahoma City 89-78. Those winners join Kansas State and Wichita in the Midwest Regional at Wichita Friday.

Other first round action tonight has Louisville, 15-9, vs. Ohio, 19-5, and defending champion Chicago Loyola, 20-5, vs. Murray State, 15-8, in Evanston, Ill., and Utah State, 20-6, vs. Arizona State, 16-10, and Oregon State, 25-3, vs. Seattle, 20-5, in Eugene, Ore.

Kentucky, Michigan, UCLA and San Francisco, the other NCAA tourney teams, are idle until Friday. The National Invitation Tourney opens in New York Thursday with Miami, Fla., vs. St. Joseph's, Pa., and New York U. vs. Syracuse.

UCLA Stays on Top on Poll Basis

By STRAT JONES
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Basketball Coach John Wooden of UCLA, when informed that his Bruins ranked above all major college teams in The Associated Press final poll of the 1963-64 season, said:

"To get this far it takes talent and luck, and we hope that both continue to stick with us."

A regional panel of 40 broadcasters and writers gave UCLA 34 votes for first place and 392 points in an over-all vote tally, giving the Bruins a good margin over Michigan, which collected 341 points.

Michigan was followed by Duke, Kentucky, Wichita, Oregon State, Villanova, Loyola of Chicago, DePaul and Davidson. Coach Wooden said he spoke for his players when expressing pride that the panel elected his team tops in the nation — the first West Coast team to finish there since the San Francisco Dons did it in 1956.

The Bruins, with a 26-0 season record sailed away last week, are the first major college team to pass unbeaten in a regular season since 1961, when Ohio State went undefeated.

The Bruins drew all but six of the votes for first place. Duke claimed three and Michigan, Oregon State and Loyola drew one each.

Here are the Top Ten, their first place votes, and point awards on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. UCLA (34) 392

2. Michigan (1) 341

3. Duke 300

4. Kentucky 258

5. Wichita 227

6. Oregon State (1) 190

7. Villanova 124

8. Chicago Loyola (1) 120

9. DePaul 72

10. Davidson 44

Hope Plays Paragould in First Round

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Greene County Tech will try to pin the second consecutive loss on District 1AA Champion Valley Springs today in the opening game of the AA-AAA state basketball tournament.

The only trouble, Tech may find, is that Valley Springs won 42 straight before that one loss last Saturday.

Tech finished second in 2AA.

Tech finished second in 2AA.

In other opening round games today, the Big Ten's El Dorado, which drew No. 3 AAA spot, takes on Smackover, third in 4AA; Malvern, second in 4AA, tangles with Conway, winner of the 3AA title; and Pine Bluff, with the No. 1 AAA spot, vies with Harrison, runnerup to Valley Springs in 1AA.

Opening round games wind up Wednesday when North Little Rock, No. 2 AAA spot, plays Little Rock Catholic, third in 3AA; Paragould, third in 2AA, plays Hope, first in 4AA; Searcy, second in 3AA, faces Fayetteville, third in 1AA; and Forrest City, first in 2AA, takes on Blytheville which drew the number No. 4 AAA spot.

San Francisco, now on top, leads St. Louis by only one game. A combination of a San Francisco loss to Baltimore Tuesday night and a St. Louis victory over New York would tie up the Western Division lead.

The weary Bullets, playing their fifth game in six days, faltered before the torrid Laker shooting attack. Jerry West had 37 for the Lakers and Elgin Baylor scored 24. Terry Dischinger got 20 for Baltimore.

Tells of Trials in Making Red Olympic Team

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—There are 45,000 athletes in the Soviet Union capable of making the Russian Olympic team, high jumper Valery Brumel said today.

"They hold medals as Masters of Sport, the highest honor our country can give to a sportsman," the slim, good-looking world record holder from Moscow added.

"Every one of them is good enough in his specialty to qualify. So you can see how hard it is to make the Olympic team. There are 45 million men and women registered with the various sports association but these 45,000 are all potential champions."

Brumel, whose 7-foot-5½ is the highest any man ever high-jumped, is in New York to receive the American Broadcast Company award as Athlete of the Year. The presentation will be made at a dinner tonight.

Brumel said he believed a mark of 7-2 might be good enough to win the gold medal at Tokyo, and the man to do it might well be the flop of the 1960 Games at Rome, Boston's John Thomas.

"Thomas is very much improved, I understand," the Russian said. "I think he can do 7-2. I think I also am capable of that height."

Asked why he didn't think he might match his mark of 7-5, Brumel replied:

"It is one thing to jump in a routine meet. It is another to jump in the Olympics. Pressure is tremendous. The strain is so great that no man can give his best."
